Howdy fellow Chat users ! Is there a bug already open for the "Turn on history" knob on the riht of the input box that has its design reversed ? When history is off, it's held to the right and blue, while with history on, the slider is at the left and gray. That looks reversed to me. Comments ?

I don't remember the details, but I think this seems backwards because we have history off by default in corp. It makes more sense for domains that have history on by default, i.e. off-the-record is something you enable.

Generally concur, @ [REDACTED] - I've felt many times that it seems reversed, visually

Good point did not think of that @ [REDACTED] ! That being said, it still confuses me as it's against what I would call the "normal standard" that you can find in most other UIs ☺

Completely agree that the current toggle for turning history on/off is confusing!

Agree with others in that this feels reversed. Thanks [REDACTED]!
